

courtesy photo

Back to school days!

Eighteen new teachers went through new teacher orientation this week, learning about procedures and practices in the District 4. Their three-day orientation concluded with a group picture, a bus tour of Addison and a lunch with their mentors and school and district administrators.