

Dist 4 collects school supplies

ADDISON — Last week, District 4 received an amazing amount of donated school supplies from two different organizations. The Gamma Eta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma brought in a mountain of supplies as part of the “Operation Backpack” project. Delta Kappa Gamma is an honorary society of women educators and many members of the Gamma Eta chapter are former District 4 teachers. These supplies were divided among the district’s 8 schools and will be distributed to students who need them.

A second donation of supplies were collected for students at Ardmore School by parishioners of Prince of Peace Lutheran Church. The Women of Peace ladies group organized the supply drive, collecting, sorting and delivering the supplies to Ardmore School on Tuesday morning.

Members of the Women of Peace organization, parishioners of Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, gathered behind their donations given to the students of District 4 schools.

All are courtesy photos
Members of the Gamma Eta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma donated school supplies to District 4 schools as part of their “Operation Backpack” project. Many members are former District 4 teachers.

Pat Bugielski (l.) from Women of Peace presents Ardmore School Principal Katy Lynch with bags of supplies donated to Dist. 4 schools. Women of Peace are from Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Addison.